

POWER FROM THE SEA - What Is The Potential For Generating Electricity In Highland Coastal Waters?

The Crown Estate, Scottish Renewables Forum and Wester Ross Alliance are hosting a series of presentations on the current status of the marine renewables industry, likely environmental impacts arising from marine renewable energy developments, and potential for community involvement.

Anyone with an interest in our coast, the sea or renewable energy is welcome to attend the meetings, which are free. Following the formal presentation there will be an opportunity to ask questions of the team of presenters and discuss the issues raised. There will be four meetings in Wester Ross:

Ullapool Village Hall – September 24th
Gairloch Community Hall – September 25th
Lochcarron Village Hall – September 26th
Kyle Hotel, Kyle of Lochalsh – September 27th

The meetings will start at 7.00pm. For further information please contact Wester Ross Alliance (01445 712918, or manager@wester-ross.org).
